Kids-Did-It! ARTWORK SELECTED FOR "TRIBUTE TO NEW YORK"

- "Big Red Heart" Featured on Greeting Cards and at On-Site Gallery -

SAN DIEGO, CA - May 23, 2002 - SURTEX® exhibitor-artwork reflecting the support and unity in the aftermath of September 11th was reproduced as greeting cards and exhibited in an on-site gallery as part of a special Tribute to New York during SURTEX and the National Stationery Show®, May 19-22, 2002, at New York City's Jacob K. Javits Convention Center.

SURTEX exhibitors from Australia, Israel, Japan, the United Kingdom and the United States submitted images, representing a diversity of styles, sentiments and perspectives. Trade editors, artists and art directors reviewed many submissions and selected a total of eight designs, including 5-year-old Kids-Did-It! artist Robert Hawk's "Big Red Heart", to be reproduced as greeting cards. In addition, a special on-site gallery, located in the Special Events Lobby of the Javits Center, showcased all the Tribute to New York designs.

Avanti Press, Inc., a greeting card publisher and long-time National Stationery Show exhibitor generously produced a limited edition of 5,000 Tribute to New York greeting cards. Trade show manager, GLM, sold the individually packaged greeting cards on-site at the Javits Center throughout the duration of the two shows. All proceeds will benefit GLM's "Funds for a Future," a year-long fundraising campaign benefiting New York City relief and recovery.

"We are very excited about all the submissions we received for Tribute to New York, as they present such a diversity of expression from our talented artists and designers from around the world," said Penny Sikalis, GLM vice president and SURTEX show manager.
